

June 1, 2010

Dear Artist:

We are excited to invite you to participate in Pratt Fine Arts Center's 2010 Gallery in the Garden!

The Gallery in the Garden is a wonderful opportunity to exhibit and sell your weather-ready artwork at Swanson's Nursery, a gardener's paradise. A select group of artists, instructors, board members and staff review all submissions to make sure your work is shown in an atmosphere of consistent excellence. We think the sale of your work can only benefit from being displayed among other pieces of similar quality in a lush and beautiful garden setting. All art will be for sale at Swanson's Nursery from July 17 - August 1, with a special kick-off party on Friday, July 16.

In addition to generating income for you, your participation in Gallery in the Garden also helps support Pratt Fine Arts Center, the largest year-round, multi-disciplinary arts center in the Northwest. Proceeds from the sale of all items are split 50/50 between the artist and Pratt. To ensure the success of the sale, Gallery in the Garden is promoted in various ways through Pratt Fine Arts Center and Swanson's Nursery.

Please carefully review the enclosed guidelines for more detailed information. If you have any questions, feel free to contact me at bclark@pratt.org. Thank you, and I look forward to seeing you in July!

Sincerely,

Brandi P. Clark
