

TUITION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Pratt's mission is to make art accessible to everyone. Pratt raises funds to subsidize the cost of participation and maintain the lowest possible fees for its programs. And yet, there are many who still cannot afford to participate. The Tuition Assistance (TAP) Program aims to provide a deeper subsidy to those who would not otherwise be able to participate due to financial limitations.

Tuition Assistance is applied as a 75% discount on the class fee for a class of the applicant's choice. TAP does not cover supply fees. Applicants are responsible to pay the remaining balance of the class fee as well as any supply fee associated with their chosen class.

ELIGIBILITY

Those whose household income falls at or below 300% of the Federal Poverty Guidelines (shown below) are eligible for Tuition Assistance. If your household income is EQUAL TO or LESS than the amount in the following chart, you are eligible for Tuition Assistance at Pratt Fine Arts Center:

Household Size*	Household Income
1	$37,470
2	50,730
3	63,990
4	77,250
5	90,510
6	103,770
7	117,030
8	130,290

DEFINITIONS:

Household Size: this number includes the applicant, any other individuals who share financial responsibility for the household, and all dependents

*Household Income: the combined gross income generated each year by all household members, as reported on IRS annual income tax forms

EXCEPTIONS

- Only one TAP student is allowed per class, on a first-come, first serve basis.
- TAP students do not count towards the minimum enrollment requirement to run a class. If a TAP student is enrolled in a class that is canceled, TAP students are encouraged to reapply.
- TAP is not available for specialty programs such as Study Abroad, Master Artist, or Summer Camp Aftercare programs.
- Students may receive TAP a maximum of twice per calendar year.
