

Arts Education

3,978
total class registrations (up 8% over prior year)

average class size =
7 students

587
classes in 14
different studios

12
Master Artist classes
21
custom classes
5
Study Abroad programs

Youth Engagement

976
youth and teens served (up 18% over prior year)

186
free youth and teen registrations

Student Assistance

$33,373
awarded in merit-
based scholarships
(up 28% over prior year)

$18,909
awarded in need-
based tuition assistance
(up 34% over prior year)

Employment

130
teaching artists
employed

12
Master Artists contracted for specialty workshops

Financial Overview

Total Revenue:
$3.53M***

Total Expenses:
$2.51M

Months cash on hand: 5

Invested fund balance:
$1,447,120

Studio Access

168
independent artists
granted first-time
access to our studios (up 19% over prior year)

19
free public lectures,
panels, and meet-ups
offered

In Partnership & Community

In addition to core programming, Pratt partnered with an array organizations and agencies to further advance its mission and/or support organizations with intersecting goals, including, but not limited to, the following:

Youth Empowerment

- Creative Justice – offered screenprinting classes for young people as an arts-based alternative to incarceration
- Interagency Academy – offered welding classes to Seattle’s most at-risk youth
- TIPS – mentored two Teens in Public Service interns

In Our Neighborhood

- Ernestine Anderson Place – offered a series of free workshops to low-income seniors (ongoing)
- James Washington Foundation – assisting with the restoration of Washington’s fountain at 23rd & Union
- Community Festivals – provided free, interactive art-making activities and/or artist demonstrations for numerous arts and community events, including Jimi Hendrix Park Opening Celebration, Juneteenth Celebration, TUF Fest, and Families of Color’s ArtsFest

Human Services

- Vibrant Palette – hosted weekly classes onsite for persons with physical or mental disabilities (ongoing)
- Path with Art – hosted art classes for persons recovering from homelessness or addiction (ongoing)
- Northwest Parkinson’s Foundation – hosted a one-day series of workshops
- Cancer Lifeline – offered free jewelry workshop for patients and caretakers
- Swedish Adventure Group – offered a flameworking class for patients with Multiple Sclerosis

Museum & Exhibition

- Bellevue Arts Museum – partnered for Making Our Mark exhibition, a 40th anniversary group exhibition featuring nearly 300 Pratt teaching artists
- Northwest African American Museum, Museum of Glass – partner workshop and free public lecture, respectively
- yə haw – providing free studio access for Native American artists to create new work for the inaugural exhibition at King Street Station in 2019

Racial Equity

Pratt Fine Arts Center is committed to the breakdown of systemic barriers and the development of equitable solutions organization-wide. Whenever possible, we share in this work with local partners, including the following activities this year:

- Seeing the Racial Waters – produced a white fragility training workshop with Robin DiAngelo; shared with attendees from 20+ local nonprofit organizations
- Racial Equity Roundtable – produced the inaugural equity roundtable for sharing and learning between local arts and cultural organizations (ongoing)